The board now regards its action in making the reduction as foolish because the tendency of this competition was to cut down the surplus of companies so that property was really covered only for ordinary casualties and not for great disasters which might visit the city at any time

CARD FROM MR L. D. C. LATOURETTE.

OREGON CITY, Aug 13, 1875

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

During the last campaign I acted in company with many other Republicans in the Independent party, and voted for part of the Independent ticket My name has been used without any consultation with me as a member of the Independent State central committee for Clackamas county. My dissatisfaction with the Republican party was caused by its support of some men that I believed to be bad. But the nomination of Hon Henry Warren is eminently satisfactory to me, and I believe ought to be to all Independents I have known him a good many years as an upright, pure and able man and I intend supporting him in the coming election I am a Republican, and believe all Republicans and Independents can unite consistently in support of Mr Warren L. PERTURBATION OF THE BOURBONS.

So long as the Independent party seemed likely to enter the contest for congressman carrying no burdens and in a condition to make sure of the votes of all persons of Independent sentiment, the fossil Democracy ridiculed the movement as a farce, without any definite object and with no considerable following. But now since the indiscreet telegram of the nominee of the Independent convention to Mr. Jason Owens has thrown the party into some disorder and to some extent diminished the chances for his election, the fossils are taking an immensely human interest in the success of the Independent candidate. The mere suggestion of the possibility of his not running sets them all agog, and the present situation of affairs is charged to be the result of a preconcerted plan to prevent the running of an Independent candidate. Here is the Mercury's comment:

> The Independents have evidently been sold out by the manipulators in their late convention. A dispatch has been published from Mr. Whitney, indicating that he had been led to believe that both the Independent and Republican conventions would indorse him, and unless this were done he could not accept the candidacy. There is a radical element within the Independent party that is anxious to get back into their old party again, and the indications now are that this element voted for Mr. Whitney, knowing that he would not accept, thus giving them a pretext to fall back into the radical ranks again and support Mr. Warren.

The "manipulators of the late convention," whoever they may be, had nothing to do with the course taken by Mr. Whitney. The name of Mr. Whitney was presented to the delegates by his friends in Lane county, and they telegraphed him to know whether he would accept the Independent nomination. There was not a word or syllable in the telegram to him suggesting a conditional acceptance. No man could have received the nomination of the Independent convention conditionally. Some delegates in the Independent convention would have been pleased to see Henry Warren selected by that convention; but it was ascertained that he would not have that nomination without assurance of the Republican co-operation, and his name was not presented in the convention. The understanding which Mr. Whitney refers to did not originate with any member of the Independent convention. The Mercury's remarks imply that Mr. Whitney was a party to the alleged conspiracy, for without him it could not have been carried out. Now, we have the word of Mr. Whitney, and he is a man whose word no one will doubt, that he had not been spoken to upon the subject of the congressional nomination, by anybody till the dispatch was sent from Salem Tuesday night inquiring if he would accept the Independent nomination. So the conspiracy business falls to the ground.

The statement of the Mercury that "there is a radical element in the Independent party that are anxious to get back into the old party again," is as stale as it is absurd. The same sort of bosh was used by the organs of both the Democratic and the Republican rings last year to influence votes, but the result showed it was wholly groundless; and certainly there is much more true independence and much less fear of the party lash throughout the masses of the people now than there was then. Independents have learned to be independent. They have no desire to be in a party unless as a means of enforcing their demand for retrenchment, reform, honest administration. And, forsooth, if they wanted to get back into the old party why make all this fuss about it. The very principles of the movement encourage every man to go back who honestly thinks he ought to do so. And surely there is no quarantine at the entrance of the old partes themselves to prevent their going in. All that is necessary to be done by any one who wants to go into any political party, old or new, in this country, is to vote for the candidates of that party. To vote for their candidates merely because they are their candidates, is to be "in the party;" and that any one could do who chose to do it, without conspiring with a lot of other people possessed of the same silly notions about the necessity of belonging to some party, going into a State convention, working up a grand collapse, getting humiliated before the world, and finally taking nothing except what they had before, the right to vote as they pleased. To say that any Independent, "radical" or conservative, who wanted to go back into the old parties, would think it necessary in order to do so, that he paw up the ground and tear things around in this manner, would be to call that Independent an idiot.

Next comes the Albany Democrat, with somewhat over a column in the same strain with what we have quoted from the Mercury, "only more so." The Democrat's article is in the form of correspondence from Salem, and purports to have been written by an Independent. It has, however, the unmistakable intrinsic evidence of having been inspired by a desire for the success of the Bourbon ticket. For instance, the writer thinks the Independents adopted a very good platform, with the exception of the resolution opposing any division of the public school moneys for sectarian purposes. This resolution the writer thinks wrong. It is the resolution which is likely to hit Lane with the most damaging force. That's what's the matter with it, and that is the key to all the affected indignation of these Bourbons over the situation of the Independents. If we can be convinced that the writer of the Democrat's article was really acting with the Independent convention, we shall be ready to admit the charge made by the organs of the Republican ring, that there are persons actively participating in the Independent organization whose object in so doing is to use it as a sort of tender to the Democratic party. Such men are not Independents—they are spies and sneaks. The less the number of them in the Independent ranks—except on election day—the better. Finally, if there is one thing that should tend to reconcile the Independents to the situation in which this [illegible] has placed them, it is the manifest and uncontrollable perturbation of the Bourbon mind.

MR. LATOURETTE'S CARD.

Mr. L. D. C. Latourette, whose card we publish, is an excellent man, every way. But his memory, we are afraid, is a little unreliable. He says, "My name has been used without any consultation with me, as a member of the Independent State Central Committee for Clackamas county." So far from being used without any consultation with him, the name of Mr. Latourette as a member of the Independent State Central Committee for Clackamas county, was used because he was the committeeman regularly chosen by the Independent State Convention of last year, of which he was a member and at which he was present in person. This the records of that Convention show, and it is also remembered by the members whose memories reach back so far. Mr. Latourette only carries out the true principles of independence when he resolves to support the man whom he thinks best qualified to fill the office. We honor him for that, and we should be glad to see the same spirit of personal independence in every voter of the State; but Mr. Latourette should have taken pains to inform himself of the facts before making a statement reflecting so severely on the Chairman of the Central Committee as that which be makes about the unauthorized use of his name. We wish not to criticise the card of Mr. Latourette, but justice to Mr. Buchtel requires that the facts be made as public as the card; for the facts show that it is Mr. Latourette and not Mr. Buchtel who is in the wrong.

DELANO.

Why does not Delano retire from the Cabinet and let the people rest? It seems an age since rumors first began to be circulated that he was about to go. And yet these rumors came not before they were welcome. Somehow people have lost confidence in Mr. Delano. His name has been connected with too many events in the history of the era of corruption. He may be an excellent man, but the country has put upon him a different estimate. He would better retire. A high officer has outlived his usefulness when he has outlived the confidence of the people. They say Mr. Delano expects to go out some time, but does not want to be driven out, or to go out "while under fire." That is all natural enough. Nearly every man who holds a public office expects to give it up some time; and very few, we take it, would like the idea of going out under fire. But if Mr. Delano is going to wait till the fusilade of public opinion ceases, he will, to all appearances, have to wait till this generation shall have passed away. The longer he stays, the more he will be under fire. This idea of his waiting till the firing ceases before he retires is not to be tolerated for a moment; for it would wear out the Secretary and all his friends.

The assessments levied upon Government officers and employes by the Washington ring, to create a corruption fund for the State elections this fall, have not been very promptly responded to. Since the changes in the Cabinet which placed three good honest men in important cabinet positions, it has become impossible to compel contributions for political purposes. That is one of the symptoms of improvement in the public service. It is to be hoped the improvement will go on till any superior officer caught trying to squeeze corruption money out of the lower officers of his department will lose his head as certainly as if he were caught in any crime.

The damage to the Wabash and Erie canal by the late storms has been so great as to be considered a calamity to the State. Between Fort Wayne and Lafayette it was broken in more than a hundred places, making its destruction complete. So great was the freshet that for forty-eight hours the canal and river were on a level, the water of the river rushing through the canal and running over the banks between the one and the other at all low places.

The telegraphic report of the nomination of Henry Warren for Congressman by the Temperance Convention was erroneous. That convention did not "sacrifice its organization." The nominee is Mr. George W. Dimick.

The Yamhill Reporter, generally one of the most reliable Independent papers, comes out strong for Warren. The Hillsboro Independent waits to see what is what.

A CARD.

EUREKA, W. T., Aug. 12, 1875.

My attention has been called to an item published in the Evening Journal of August 10th, under the head of "POISONED BY EATING CANNED SALMON," which reflects upon me, as the salmon in question is said to be the "Star Brand," from my fishery. The item states that when the can was first opened the persons ate of its contents without unpleasant results. The can remained open two days, when the same persons again partook of the fish, and soon after they began purging, as if poisoned, etc. This is not to be wondered at, as a can of any kind of canned goods will commence fermenting in a very short time after being opened, and allowing the air to come in contact with it, more particularly canned fish. The very fact that the parties eat from the can on its first being opened proves that the salmon was good, and that they could only blame themselves for allowing it to stand long enough to spoil before eating it. Any fish will spoil in warm weather, sometimes in twenty-four hours, according to the warmth of the climate it is exposed to. In some climates it will keep after being opened for several days, if in winter time, but the general supposition is that when a party opens a can of fish that they will follow the directions on label, and not open until they require to use it; and then if they follow these directions, I desire that they first cut the top entirely out of the can, then place it in a dish partly filled with boiling water, so the water will come up two-thirds to the top of the can, and let the can stand until the fish is thoroughly heated through, when they will empty it out on a dish to be served from table, which will avoid breaking the fish, as in doing this it comes out in a solid lump, and by covering it with a nice sauce makes a fine and wholesome dish. If wanted cold, it is expected that any one would empty the fish out of the can into a vegetable dish and pour vinegar on it, if desired this way, but it is not expected for any one to eat a little from the can and then let it spoil, expecting that it will keep any length of time after opening, and allow anyone to partake of at their pleasure. As regards using coloring or adulterating the fish in any way, I don't do anything of the kind, nor never did, nor never heard of any one who has ever done so. My fish come fresh and hard to the shop, and are canned at once, while fresh. After being nicely cleaned and cut up ready for the cans, and the cans are always washed before putting in any fish, the only thing put in is a little salt for seasoning. When the fish and salt are in the can it is then sealed up and cooked at once. Great injustice has been done me in publishing any such cards, and they should not have done so until they had proofs that I am guilty of so base an outrage. JOSEPH HUME.

CITY [illegible]

MASONIC CELEBRATION.—As has been repeatedly announced, the Masonic fraternity of Oregon and Washington Territory are to unite in a grand celebration on the Sound. The various transportation companies have reduced the passenger tariff for the occasion to half price. The Albany express will leave Albany this morning at half-past 4 o'clock, reaching Portland at half-past 8 o'clock. The Kalama boat will leave the O. S. N. Co's wharf at o'clock and go over to the east side to receive the passengers coming on the express train. On arrival at Tacoma a steamer chartered by the fraternity of Washington Territory will be waiting to convey the excursionists to Olympia Monday evening. On Tuesday the grand lodges of Oregon, Washington Territory and British Columbia will spend the day in addresses of welcome, orations, etc., with ball and banquet in the evening. On Tuesday the grand lodges of Oregon and Washington Territory and British Columbia will spend the day in addresses of welcome, orations, etc., with ball and banquet in the evening. A grand clam-bake will take place on Wednesday. At daylight on Thursday a steamer will take the excursionists to Victoria, stopping at all towns on Puget Sound, and returning so as to reach Portland on Saturday, Aug. 21st.

A DIPPING.—A party of three gentlemen out sailing on the river opposite Holladay's wharf, yesterday, met with an accident that led them to believe that the river was not as safe a means of transit as terra firma, especially in a small boat, and handled by persons more in the habit of manipulating sewing machines than sailing craft. They were in the Jolly "dreaming dreams no mortal ever dreamt before," when a gust of wind came up, throwing the boat over on her beam ends, and precipitating the occupants into the river. One, thinking the boat sinking, struck out manfully for the shore, but soon returned and joined his comrades, who were clinging tenaciously to the side of the boat, and screaming vociferously for help. Aid soon came to their assistance, righted the boat and took the occupants to a place where Peter could have walked all night without exercising any great amount of faith. No injury resulted to the three unfortunates, except a good wetting, and a laugh at the supper table by some who were too much under the influence of "early training" to go boating on Sunday.

UNMOLESTED.—Yesterday at 2 o'clock P. M. the Chinese Missionary, Dong Gong, made his appearance on the sidewalk near the corner of Alder and Second streets, and began to address his countrymen on the important subject of religion. His appearance on the sidewalk was the signal for a large crowd to collect. Several hundred Chinamen gathered about the speaker and trouble was anticipated. Chief Lappeus was lingering about the scene in expectation of seeing violence used by the irate Johns toward the missionary, and for the express purpose of preventing trouble. When the assemblage observed the smiling countenance of the chief, they wisely concluded to let the pious missionary alone. They were quite indignant, and jabbered among themselves, but did not dare to raise a hand against the preacher. Dong Gong addressed them for some time and then withdrew to the mission school room.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.—Theo. Bromser, the cook on board the steamer Bonita, had an altercation on Saturday while the boat was on the way to this city, with a Chinaman, who is employed as an assistant cook. It is stated that high words were indulged in between the parties, when the Chinaman drew a knife and advanced threateningly toward the cook, who defended himself by knocking his assailant down twice. Complaint was lodged at police court soon after the Bonita reached the wharf, and Bromser was arrested on a charge of assault and battery. He was taken to jail, and in default of bonds kept in custody. The Chinaman appears to be pretty badly maltreated. This morning the case will come up for judicial investigation.

ANOTHER DEER HUNT.—A party of nimrods, consisting of L. P. W. Quimby, of the American Exchange, C. H. Perkins, of the St. Charles, Messrs. L. F. Powers, J. Hose, J. Farrow, Walter Moffett and W. L. Button started for Sucker Lake last Saturday evening, and arrived at camp about 8 o'clock. Messrs. Perkins and Powers strayed away from the party, got lost in the woods, and failed to make camp until 10 o'clock, completely exhausted, but ready to enjoy the luxuries there awaiting them. The party, although not so formidable in point of numbers as that we noticed last week, nevertheless succeeded in bringing home a very fine deer, shot by that veteran deer-hunter, Mr. Quimby, at a distance of over 200 yards.

PASSENGERS COMING.—The steamship Oriflamme, which sailed from San Francisco for Portland on Saturday, brings the following passengers: J. Failing and wife, Mrs. Washington Allen, Guy Howard, Miss G. E. Howard, G. F. Degen and wife, Mrs. J. A. Stephens and two children, H. Hughes, M. Ainsa, S. Battersby, T. Hoagland and family, W. Wheeler, Miss L. Kennedy, Mrs. S. B. Sexton, Mrs. C. Trevitt, J. Huener, J. Loughlin, C. Wellman, Wm. Pitt, N. Thompson, G. Larone, S. Ray, H. S. Allen, H. S. Parkhurst, A. B. Mott, Jas. Hunt, N. E. Mills, Henry Jacobs, S. Pelton, C. Bernstein, G. Lipsher, H. Moskowitz, W. W. Martin, W. B. Wilshire, W. C. Hess, Dr. F. G. Ainsworth, U.S.A.

GEOLOGICAL SPECIMENS.—From Prof. Condon, State Geologist, who has just returned from Tillamook valley, the evening cotemporary learns that the road from North Yamhill to Tillamook is in excellent condition for travel. While in the valley named, the professor found a petrified arm of one of the lower order of extinct animals imbedded in a large boulder, by breaking the rock in pieces, but he has not yet determined the precise class to which the specimen belongs. He also found several other fossil remains, including shells imbedded in rock. The professor will soon give another of his interesting geological lectures, which will embrace the results of his late and most important discoveries.

CHINAMAN DROWNED.—We understand that a Chinaman, while engaged at work on a wharf a short distance below St. Helens, fell into the river last Saturday afternoon about 2 o'clock and was drowned. He was piling up some lumber near the edge of the wharf, and losing his balance fell back into the river. From the wharf down to the river was about 15 feet, and the water at that point was 20 feet deep. After striking, the Chinaman sank immediately and did not rise again to the surface. A moment after the Chinaman fell into the river, the steamer Willamette Chief arrived at the wharf. Search was made for the body of the unfortunate John, but without success.

DISCHARGED.—Two patients who met with serious accidents, and have been carefully nursed at the hospital of St. Vincent de Paul, were discharged from that charitable institution a few days ago. One was the man Rogers, who had a leg badly crushed some weeks ago by a falling tree, resulting in the amputation of the limb. The stump has entirely healed and the man recovered. The other person is the Chinaman who had an arm cut off in a planing machine down at Springville. The limb was amputated just above the joint of the elbow, and healed up in a few weeks.

THE STEAMER CALIFORNIA.—We learn from the Victoria papers that the steamship California, hence, arrived at that place on the 10th, having been three days on the passage, owing to fogs, and having sustained a slight disarrangement of her machinery, which necessitated her using only one engine. She was repaired and went over to Port Townsend and back to Victoria, and sailed thence for Sitka on the 14th. Mr. Hammond sailed for Sitka on her.

CITY.

Masonic Celebration.—As has been repeatedly announced, the Masonic fraternity of Oregon and Washington Territory are to unite in a grand celebration on the Sound. The various transportation companies have reduced the passenger tariff for the occasion to half-price. The Albany express will leave Albany this morning at half-past 4 o'clock, reaching Portland at half-past 8 o'clock. The Kalama boat will leave the O. S. N. Co's wharf at 8 o'clock and go over to the east side to receive the passengers coming on the express train. On arrival at Tacoma a steamer chartered by the fraternity of Washington Territory will be waiting to convey the excursionists to Olympia Monday evening. On Tuesday the grand lodges of Oregon, Washington Territory and British Columbia will spend the day in addresses of welcome, orations, etc., with ball and banquet in the evening. On Tuesday the grand lodges of Oregon and Washington Territory and British Columbia will spend the day in addresses of welcome, orations, etc., with ball and banquet in the evening. A grand clam-bake will take place on Wednesday. At daylight on Thursday a steamer will take the excursionists to Victoria, stopping at all towns on Puget Sound, and returning so as to reach Portland on Saturday, Aug. 21st.

A Dipping.—A party of three gentlemen, out sailing on the river opposite Holladay's wharf, yesterday, met with an accident that led them to believe that the river was not as safe a means of transit as terra firma, especially in a small boat, and handled by persons more in the habit of manipulating sewing machines than sailing craft. They were in the Jolly, "dreaming dreams no mortal ever dreamt before," when a gust of wind came up, throwing the boat over on her beam ends, and precipitating the occupants into the river. One, thinking the boat sinking, struck out manfully for the shore, but soon returned and joined his comrades, who were clinging tenaciously to the side of the boat, and screaming vociferously for help. Aid soon came to their assistance, righted the boat and took the occupants to a place where Peter could have walked all night without exercising any great amount of faith. No injury resulted to the three unfortunates, except a good wetting, and a laugh at the supper table by some who were too much under the influence of "early training" to go boating on Sunday.

Unmolested.—Yesterday at 2 o'clock P. M. the Chinese Missionary Dong Gong, made his appearance on the sidewalk near the corner of Alder and Second streets, and began to address his countrymen on the important subject of religion. His appearance on the sidewalk was the signal for a large crowd to collect. Several hundred Chinamen gathered about the speaker and trouble was anticipated. Chief Luppens was lingering about the scene in expectation of seeing violence used by the irate Johns toward the missionary, and for the express purpose of preventing trouble. When the assemblage observed the smiling countenance of the chief, they wisely concluded to let the pious missionary alone. They were quite indignant, and jabbered among themselves, but did not dare to raise a hand against the preacher. Dong Gong addressed them for some time and then withdrew to the mission school room.

Meeting.—There will be a meeting of the Board of trustees of the Portland Exempt Firemen's Association at the council chamber at 7:30 o'clock this (Monday) evening. A full attendance is desired.

No Fire Alarm.—The telegraphic fire alarm system being now in working condition, Chief Engineer Hallock will cause the big bell to be tapped three times at 12 o'clock M each day. His object in taking this precaution is to determine if the system is in complete and perfect working order, so that in the event of an alarm there will be no difficulty in indicating the locality of the fire. No apprehensions need be felt when the alarm bell is tapped three times at noon, as it is only for the purpose above mentioned.

Keys Distributed.—By authority of the common council, the chief engineer distributed keys to the alarm-boxes to the several policemen of the city, and he will, as soon as the chairman of the committee on fire and water authorizes the necessary printing and painting of instructions for the station boxes and key-holders, distribute the remainder of the keys.

Meeting of Stockholders.—The regular annual meeting of the stockholders of the Oregon Central Pacific Railway Company will be held in this city on Saturday, 18th day of September, at the office of Gibbs & Hughes.

Grain Ships.—By referring to the telegraphic shipping news it will be seen that the British ship City of York and British ship Berar are both on the way to this port. These are the first of the grain-bearing fleet for 1875.

OUT-DOOR SPORTS.

The pigeon shooting which came off last Saturday afternoon at the White House, was largely attended and was quite an exciting contest. The principal feature of the shooting was a private match between Mr. H. C. Leonard and B. B. Acker. The latter gentleman wagered Mr. Leonard that he (Leonard) could not shoot one bird in five, in that number of single successive shots, at the usual rise distance—22 yards. Mr. Leonard missed the first bird which was sprung from the trap, but brought down the second, thus winning the bet. After the match between Leonard and Acker, a number of side matches were made up, in which Bybee, Green, Bingham, Sears and Backinstos, and other crack shots, entered. Bybee was the lucky man and carried off the sweepstakes. A number of private bets were made, and considerable coin changed hands among outsiders.

A number of lovers of turf sports are in attendance at the White House last Saturday afternoon to witness the race announced to come off over the Riverside Course. The first race to come off was a contest against time to be made by the elegant, trim little nag, "Bellfounder." She was entered and driven by Jas. J. Welsh. The match was for $200, and the time to be beat was 2:38. After dashing around the track several times to give "Bellfounder" a little exercise and warm her up to her work, she was started. The first heat was made in 2:40½. Being entitled by sporting rules to three trials, etc., was rubbed down and allowed a few moments to blow. In the second heat the mare got down to her work in good earnest, and carried off the purse in 2:35½. The second race announced was to be a trotting match between "Ham Boyd," entered and driven by B. B. Acker, and "Startle," entered by C. P. Bacon and driven by J. J. Welsh, for a purse of $50. However, the race did not come off owing to the extreme lameness of "Startle."

Quite a lively contest took place yesterday between the sail boats Nameless and the Cricket for a purse of $100. John La Chapelle entered the former and Robert Brown the latter. The owner of the Wren paid forfeit and thus withdrew, reducing the purse $50. It was agreed in the drawing up of the agreement that the Cricket should have a start of two minutes. Shortly after 2 o'clock the boats were started from opposite the railroad ferry landing, and proceeded down the river to the head of Swan Island, to the stake boat, passed in front of the city to the stake boat at the foot of Ross Island and back to the starting point. In the early part of the race the boats kept well together, at one time the Nameless leading, a stiff breeze giving her the advantage. On the run before the city to Ross Island the Cricket had a good lead of fully one-half mile. In the turn at Ross Island the Nameless gained considerably, and on the home stretch gradually lessened the gap. The Cricket reached the goal just three minutes and forty seconds, (or really only one minute and forty seconds, she having been allowed a start of two minutes). in advance of her rival, making the distance, ten miles, in 2:10. Had the Nameless another stretch of a quarter of a mile she would have over-hauled her lively competitor. It was a good race.

FROM INDEPENDENCE.

A correspondent, writing from Independence, Polk county, says:

Farmers are all busy harvesting. The first load of new wheat was stored this day in Mr. Butler's warehouse.

Although the wheat on the fields looks well, farmers say that the kernels are not as good as in former years. The grains are shriveled considerably, the continued hot weather being considered the cause. Oats in this part of the country will be scarce, having been sown late. It looks very poor, especially near the Luckiamute, where they generally raise extra crops of that cereal. The fall wheat looks and turns out pretty fair, but spring wheat in many places looks very poor.

The farmers' warehouse, which is 100x160, will soon be completed. The scarcity of lumber (although there are two sawmills running) is the cause of it not being finished.

Business is lively. As farmers expect good prices for wheat, they are more liberal in their purchases.

Our city government does not move on very smoothly. Three of the heaviest tax-payers refused to pay the city tax on account of illegal proceedings, and the constable was ordered and did levy and sell goods enough to pay three times the amount of taxes. A big law-suit is the consequence.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Mr. C. A. Burchard, No. 36 Washington street, advertises a great reduction in the prices of wines. As he purchases direct from the growers, he is enabled to sell white and red wines at 75 cents per gallon, or $2 50 per dozen and 25 cents per bottle.

Skillful labor is wealth. This can be seen at the merchant tailoring establishment of Johnson & Quinn.

Six months ago the tailoring establishment of Johnson & Quinn was one of the smallest in the city. Now it will equal the largest. Call and see.

One of the most attractive establishments in the city is that of JOS. KOHN'S, in the handsome building recently constructed at the corner of First and Morrison street. Mr. KOHN has an unusually large and varied stock of Clothing, Furnishing Goods, Trunks, Valises, &c. He made it a point to select goods, on a late trip, specially adapted to the local trade, and his customers will find everything in the new store of the very best quality, latest styles, and the prices regulated to suit.

SAN FRANCISCO BOOT & SHOE STORE. Moore & Hollabaugh, successors to J. Fleischner, 123 First street, respectfully say to the public generally, that they have marked down the old stock from 25 to 50 per cent, and intend to sell regardless of cost. They have this day received a large stock of New Goods, latest styles, which they will sell as cheap as the cheapest, endeavoring to suit all who may favor them with their patronage. Custom work done in the latest styles and on new and scientific principles. Repairing done to order. All work warranted. Give them a call before purchasing elsewhere.

LECTURE ON PRAYER.

A LAY LECTURE, BY GEN. HOWARD, AT THE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, YESTERDAY AT 11 A. M., ON PRAYER.

Gen. Howard first indicated the importance of the subject by referring to the dangers to be encountered and the blessings to be secured through this channel alone. He then gave the Christian definition of prayer, viz: An offering up of our desires to God for things lawful and needful with an humble confidence of obtaining them through the mediation of Christ alone, to the praise of the mercy, truth and power of God.

Prayer is mental or vocal, private or public —for ourselves or others. For procuring good things or preventing evil things.

Agreeing upon this meaning, it is considered as a duty—a duty because Christ enjoins it; a duty because the disciple is to follow Christ's constant teaching in his example. Against slander, against persecution. Jesus enjoins upon his followers to "Pray for them that despitefully use you and persecute you." Not "slander for slander, revenge for revenge—give as good as is sent" but love, bless, do good and pray in return for enmity, cursing hatred and persecution.

The duty of secret prayer is thus pressed and enforced by the example of our blessed Lord. The model of prayer, "Our Father," etc., is given not simply as a formula by the Saviour, but to convey the manner and spirit of supplication.

The great number of Jesus' prayers during His ministry, were full of meaning, full of unmistakable instruction. "Take away this cup from me, nevertheless not what I will, but what thou wilt," it is full of submission. It always helps the breaking, grief-stricken heart to ponder this prayer.

Prayer a duty in the hour of temptation—"Watch ye and pray lest ye enter into temptation." This was the true safeguard for Jesus' friends. It is so to-day.

The duty of prayer is made plain by the example and teaching of the apostles and other disciples in the Bible record (several illustrations are given).

If we search the Scriptures we shall find that the people of God, those who were his faithful servants, were often in prayer, in sorrow, in joy, in prosperity, in adversity. A man of a genuine prayerful spirit is one ready for every good word and work. A prayerless man knows little of the goodness of his loving Heavenly Father.

Gen. Howard then considers prayer a necessity. In fearful extremities nature asserts itself and the lips cry to some god. He illustrates by a celebrated atheist poet, who was found on his knees crying to God on a vessel during a storm near dreadful breakers.

Next the use of prayer, denied because of God's knowledge and supposed inflexibility. There is use in obedience—illustrated by the sailor and the soldier.

There is use in appointment—sow and you shall reap; ask and ye shall receive. Abundance of illustrations are given of the changes produced immediately and continuously in human hearts and human lives by prayer. An example is given of a man who had his leg caught in the crevice of a rock and could not extricate it as the tide came in. His cry for help to man and to God; he shrieks it in his extremity; he does not then quarrel with the theory; he uses the appointed instrument. Physical help is not always sure, but spiritual help is sure, is promised; the crimson may become white.

Prayer a privilege—illustrated by a general's commission and assignment to important command. The duty is plain, but it becomes a privilege. A sinner is bound by satan, and deliverance is promised, conditioned upon the genuine prayer. It is a duty; it is a startling privilege to be able to cry, "God be merciful to me."

Prayer comprises a multiplicity of privileges: it brings forgiveness, cleanness of heart, right spirit, obedient will, comfort, light, joy, guidance, real charity, love to God and to man. It checks avarice, ambition and pride, and fosters generosity, concession and humility.

Prayer is always available, always at hand. It may be short—but a word, etc.; it is not confined to place or position. It should be specific; ask for real wants. It is sweet and strong in the presence of death—examples Jesus, and the martyr Stephen, the traveler Livingstone, who died and remained in the position of prayer.

OREGON CONFERENCE.

Third Day's Session.

Salem, August 13.

The conference was opened at the usual hour, Bishop Peck in the chair.

The minutes of the previous session were read and approved.

Rev. Mr. Henderson, of the Congregational Church, and Rev. Mr. Hill, of the Baptist Church, were introduced.

Charles Shepherd was admitted on trial.

The bishop announced the transfer of M. M. Sexton, of the Des Moines conference, and E. H. Warring, of the Iowa conference, and the former was introduced.

The fourth question was taken up, "Who are admitted into full connection?"

T. M. Reese and E. D. Curtis were called forward and addressed by the bishop.

T. M. Reese was favorably reported upon by the examining committee and represented by his presiding elder, and, on motion, was admitted into full connection to Deacon's orders.

E. D. Curtis, not in charge, was favorably reported upon by the examining committee, admitted and elected to Deacon's orders.

On motion, G. W. Chattin was added to the committee on Indian affairs.

On motion, W. Roberts was authorized to manage the matter of railroad and steamboat fares on the return of preachers and delegates to their homes.

A paper from the Sheridan academy was referred to the educational committee.

The delegates to the electoral conference were called forward and introduced, after which they were addressed by the Bishop.

On motion, a committee of three was ordered to convey to the electoral conference, upon its organization, the fraternal feelings of this conference.

The report of the committee on periodicals was submitted and adopted.

A paper from Vancouver Seminary was referred to committee on education.

The account for publishing the minutes of last year's session was submitted, and, on motion, a collection was taken up to pay a deficit of $18. Amount of collection, $19 75. The deficit was met, and the surplus retained for publication of this session's minutes.

The tenth question was then resumed.

R. Bentley was called and his character passed.

A resolution on lay delegations in the annual conference was submitted and adopted.

On motion, the order adopted for the election of a delegate to the general conference was reconsidered, and, on motion, the election was fixed for Saturday at 9 o'clock A. M.

The Bishop gave notice that the missionary meeting would take place immediately thereafter.

A motion in relation to the election of presiding elders was submitted and laid on the table.

On motion, E. D. Curtis was appointed assistant secretary.

Notices were given out. Rev. W. Roberts pronounced the benediction, and the conference adjourned until Saturday morning.

The Ladies' Pronunciamento!

While protesting against all the old worthless Dentrifices now in the market, the Ladies, with one consent, have adopted the Sozodont as the one thing needful to insure the integrity of the teeth and a fragrant breath.

A True Balsam.—Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry is truly a balsam. It contains the balsamic principle of the Wild Cherry, the balsamic properties of tar and of pine. Its ingredients are all balsamic. Coughs, Colds, Sore Throats, Bronchitis and Consumption speedily disappear under its balsamic influence.

EVENING SONG

Close little weary eyes
The day at last is over
To night no more surprise
Shall they discover
Nor bird nor butterfly
Nor unfamiliar flower
Nor picture in the sky
Nor fairy in the bower

Rest little weary feet
The woods are dark and lonely
The little birds rest sweet
The owl is watching only
No butterfly is seen
Nor daisy in the meadow
Their gold and white and green
Are turned to purple shadow

Fold little busy hands
Day is the time for doing
The boys lie on the sands
The mill wheels are not going
Within the dark meadow
Are hushed the spade and hammer
The cattle rest supine
The cock will hold his clamor

Still, little restless heart
Be still until the morrow—
Till them thou hast no part
—In either joy or sorrow
To new and joyous day
Shall little birds awake thee
Again to work and play
With strength renewed, betake thee
—Good Words

A BRAVE CLERGYMAN

A North Mountain Penn correspondent of the Philadelphia Times sends it the following

"North Mountain is a quiet hillside resort on a branch road, from Wilkesbarre Penn Adjacent to the hotel are mines and shafts In a new one of the latter which was being sunk the flow of water at eighty feet was so plentiful as to compel its temporary abandonment A few days ago the 'boss' descended the shaft to examine its condition He was lowered fifty feet, when the sudden slacking of the rope showed that the captain must have fallen from the bucket It was clear that he had been overcome with gas and, if he had not been already killed by the fall, that he would soon die from drowning or suffocation The group of guests were of course horror stricken and urged the unfortunate boss's gang—numbering many men—to go to his rescue but they peremptorily refused to take the risk Their cowardice so disgusted Rev Walter Q Scott, late Professor at Lafayette College, Easton, and present pastor of the Presbyterian Church Tenth and Arch streets, Philadelphia, that, accoutred as he was, he plunged into the bucket and insisted upon being quickly lowered to the scene of peril He was reluctantly let down, and in a very short time signalled to the alert and anxious hearts at the windlass to 'hoist away' This was done with a hearty will, and the added weight told them that the impulsive and dangerous exploit had not been futile On reaching the surface, Mr Scott fainted from the great stress that he had undergone, and his rescued burden was a wet, limp and senseless man Mr Scott was soon restored, and the captain also yielded to treatment and called for a glass of whisky and his pipe for a little solace Mr Scott reported that the gas was overpowering and that he was cautious to inhale as little of it as possible He found the victim under water, and as he was a man weighing about two hundred pounds it taxed his strength to lug him into the bucket, and when he had himself climbed in and given the signal to hoist he was in a stupor and recollected no more until he revived among his friends He has entirely recovered, and not being of a nervous temperament he experiences no unpleasant effects"

FATE OF SIR JOHN FRANKLIN

The recent death of Lady Franklin brings to mind the discovery by Captain McClintock of the fate of Sir John Franklin This is the dreary record

"On the 6th of May Lieutenant Hobson pitched his tent beside a large cairn upon Point Victory Lying among some loose stones, which had fallen from the top of this cairn, was found a small tin case containing a record, the substance of which was as follows 'This cairn was built by the Franklin expedition upon the assumed site of Sir James Ross' pillar, which had not been found The Erebus and Terror spent their first winter at Beechy Island, after having ascended Wellington Channel to latitude 77 deg north, and returned by the west side of Cornwallis Island On the 12th of September, 1846, they were beset by the ice Sir John Franklin died on the 11th of June, 1847 On the 22d of April 1848 the ships were abandoned five leagues to the north northwest of Point Victory and the survivors, 105 in number, landed here under the command of Captain Crozier"

There has been but little said of one feature of the relics of the Franklin expedition The discovery of human bones in kettles did not permit observers to avoid the conclusion that the starving men had cooked and eaten deceased comrades —Cincinnati Commercial

CLEOPATRA'S NEEDLE —A good deal of interest has been shown here in the scheme for the transportation home of the obelisk —one of the so called Cleopatra's Needles —presented to England forty years ago by Mohammed Ali It is a fine monolith of red granite sixty-four feet in length and seven feet in diameter Its weight has been variously estimated, but the maximum given is two hundred and eighty-four tons It now lies prostrate and parallel to the sea, at a distance of twenty four feet on a sandy bank fifteen feet high, with nothing between it and the water save a ruined sea wall The hieroglyphics are in good preservation, and record that the obelisk was erected at On (Heliopolis, near Cairo,) by Thothmes II, about 1,500 B C, during whose reign Egypt is recorded to have "placed its frontier where it pleased" The lateral inscriptions record the name and titles of Rameses II (known to the Greeks under the name of Sesostris), and relate how he had conquered all the nations of the world It is worthy of note too, that the Israelites were in Egypt at the time of the construction of this monument It is said to have been brought to Alexandria in the beginning of the Christian era Various schemes have been suggested for the removal of the stone, but the most feasible seems to be the construction of a jetty to deep water, so as to convey it along an inclined plane of beams to a raft on which it might be secured and towed to England in the summer months —London Times

A STRANGE STORY FROM THE SEA — A private letter received yesterday in Sheffield from one of the crew of the iron ship Glance of London, which arrived in the Thames from Adelaide on Thursday gives intelligence of a terrible event which recently occurred at sea On the 27th of June the Glance passed an outbound vessel, bearing the name of Jessie Osborne, and was hailed by the captain of the latter ship who reported that one of his crew had gone mad that for five days the maniac had stationed himself aloft, and that nothing could induce him to return to the deck The captain further reported that the madman had armed himself with a large chisel with which he was cutting the ropes and that the boatswain had tried to bring him down The maniac, however threw a block at the boatswain, knocking him on the deck and breaking his arm and leg As a matter of safety to his vessel and crew the captain of the Jessie Osborne considered that it was necessary to shoot the maniac, and after some consultation that course was decided upon The crew and officers of the Glance were requested to be present as witnesses, and in their presence the man was shot with a revolver In consequence of the way in which he moved about the rigging, three shots had to be fired before he was fatally injured He fell dead on deck and his body was eventually thrown overboard —London Times, July 17th.

There is nothing [illegible] to encourage the business men and producing classes of the [illegible] especially in our State when looking forward for the commercial prosperity of [illegible] While the progress has heretofore been slow it has only been so because of the sparseness of our population and our remoteness from the principal markets of the world. Our means of overcoming the latter obstacle are growing better while the steady stream of immigration reaching our shores betokens a populous State in the near future The coming trade year bids fair to be one of a [illegible] deal of progress in the direction we have indicated [illegible] different from the condition of affairs elsewhere as will be seen by the following from a Chicago paper of the [illegible]

The money market rules exceedingly dull The great manufacturing and mining industries are in a very depressed state In England a large number of cotton and iron industries have temporarily suspended owing to an accumulation of unsalable products and difficulties with employes and matters here are much in the same condition this is creating an accumulation of funds in the great money centers which cannot find profitable employment owing to the depressed state of the market at home and abroad

While the Western and Atlantic seaboard cities have an abundance of money it is mostly in a few hands and finds small opportunity for profitable investment the Pacific coast with only a fair supply of available funds for her legitimate trade is prospering in all her commercial interests and looking forward to a year of unexampled prosperity

Our local monetary affairs are in no respect changed from the condition of a general quietness and ease noticed for some time past and trade matters are also without special exciting causes at present.

Miscellaneous

The exports to foreign countries from the customs district of Puget Sound for the month of July were as follows To British Columbia $2,[illegible] Peru [illegible] Sandwich Islands $[illegible] Peru $10,[illegible] Chili $9 [illegible] Cape Town $13 [illegible] total $[illegible] Excepting what went to British Columbia the whole of these exports were of lumber from the various sawmills on the Sound and comprised about nine ordinary cargoes The number of vessels entered during the month was [illegible] registering 14,[illegible] tons cleared, 42 vessels of 16,[illegible] tons total 77 vessels aggregating 31,625 tons

Our farmers continue to enjoy the advantage of cheap bags and low rates of transportation English hand sewed bags can now be had in small lots at 10c against 16c a year ago It is said that importers are losing 5 per bale Ships can be had for but little more than half the price asked a year ago These are very important concessions to farmers and will make considerable difference in their bank accounts

The assistant United States treasurer at New York received $121,[illegible] in July and disbursed $121,050,000 carrying over a balance of $96,[illegible] The payments included over $14,000,000 for interest on the public debt

The deposits at the United States Assay office in New York for July amounted to $1,[illegible] including $1,0[illegible] in gold of which $640,000 was in United States bullion and $360,000 in foreign coins. The silver deposits embraced $[illegible] from Colorado Most of the above was subsequently sent to the Philadelphia mint for coinage.

The ship Annie M Small which cleared from San Francisco for New York last week carried a considerable shipment of Oregon iron

The marine disasters during the month of July in which the United States was interested numbered 18 The loss exclusive of cargoes is set down at $570,000 The heaviest loss was the steamship Abbotsford wrecked off the coast of Wales. The only other steamer lost during the month was the Eastport, just north of San Francisco harbor The vessel cost $70,000 and the wreck was sold for $300 One of the barks lost was the Clara R Sutil which foundered while on her way from San Francisco for Coos Bay The list includes the bark Una from Calcutta for San Francisco which is reported missing

The latest returns of the department of agriculture show the acreage of tobacco in the United States has materially enlarged this year all of the great tobacco States in the South and West having increased their area from 4 to 50 per cent while Kentucky shows an increase of [illegible] per cent and Tennessee of 20 per cent. Since these returns were made however heavy rains have prevailed and it is thought that much damage has resulted

Ayer's Ague Cure,
FOR THE SPEEDY RELIEF OF

Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

Has been widely used during the last twenty five years in the treatment of these distressing diseases, and with such unvarying success that it has gained the reputation of being infallible The shakes or chills once broken by it do not return until the disease is contracted again This has made it an accepted remedy, and trusted specific for the Fever and Ague of the West, and the Chills and Fever of the South

Ayer's Ague Cure eradicates the noxious poison from the system and leaves the patient as well as before the attack. It thoroughly expels the disease so that no Liver Complaints Rheumatism Neuralgia Dysentery or Debility follow the cure Indeed where Disorders of the Liver and Bowels have occurred from Miasmatic Poison it removes the cause of them and they disappear Not only is it an effectual cure but if taken occasionally by patients exposed to malaria it will expel the poison and protect them from attack Travelers and temporary residents in Fever and Ague localities are thus enabled to defy the disease. The General Debility which is so apt to ensue from continued exposure to Malaria and Miasm has no speedier remedy

For Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy

Horrible Diseases.

It is important to those who are afflicted [illegible] and those who are interested in the welfare of the [illegible] to be careful of the many pretended doctors [illegible] in all cities publishing their skill in curing [illegible] in a few days imposing upon the [illegible] the names of eminent physicians from [illegible] other places.
